CLUB

Disappearing Dining Club brings people together to enjoy great food and drink in private and unusual spaces.

From lighthouses and laundrettes, to rooftops and railway arches, we have been wining and dining our guests across London (and sometimes across the UK) since October 2010.

SOMEWHERE - ANYWHERE

DDC host unforgettable weddings in warehouses, photographic studios, railway arches, bombed-out churches and art galleries across London and the UK. We bring spaces to life, collaborate with our couples on food, drink, music and lighting, and create one-of-a-kind days for everyone to enjoy.

HOW IT WORKS

1. First Meeting

Meet DDC. Choose a venue. Sign your pre-nup.

2. Lets Get Started

Meet your coordinator. Plan the day.

3. Food & Drink

Meet the chefs. Taste some food. Choose some drinks.

4. Almost There

Finishing touches. Final details.

5. The Big Day

Congratulations. Fun times!

We'll help you plan the day, serve you the food and drink you really want, make sure everything goes to plan, and do all the cleaning up afterwards. All you need to do, is turn up and enjoy it.

1. First Meeting

*Meet DDC. Choose a venue.
Sign your pre-nup.*

After completing the wedding Q&A, we'll meet to talk through your ideas, and get to know each other. We'll run through how everything works, talk money, and answer any questions you might have.

Following our chat, we'll then suggest up to 4 venues and spend a morning / afternoon / day going to see the ones you like the best.

The pre-nup is our agreement to work together, even if we don't yet have a confirmed date, and starts the planning stage.

2. Lets Get Started

*Meet your coordinator.
Plan the day:*

This is where we get down to the details, and begin to see your wedding take shape. You'll meet your DDC Wedding Coordinator, who works with you to bring together all of the elements of your big day.

We'll agree a schedule for the day and talk through the guest experience from start to finish. We'll suggest creative (and practical) ideas for sound & light design, look & feel, table layout, food service, the bar and the party.

Your Wedding Coordinator is there to keep things simple for you; from looking after all the suppliers (the venue, photographers, florists, the band), producing your first quote and keeping you up to speed on your budget, managing your timeline, and will be there to look after things on the day.

3. Food & Drink

*Meet the chefs. Taste some food.
Choose some drinks.*

Our favourite bit; your food and drink.

Get together with DDC Head Chef Fred Bolin to talk through your food wants and needs, and Fred will write a menu just for you. Once a menu is agreed, we hold a tasting and make any final tweaks.

Drinks work the same way. We suggest wines, cocktails, toasts, after-dinner drinks, bar menus, soft drinks, that work alongside your food menu and become a creative and memorable part of your day.

4. Almost There

*Finishing touches.

Now's the time for any last minute changes and additional extras.

All of the logistical, gastronomical, operational and creative preparation is in place, finalised and agreed, and ready to go for your big day. Time to get really excited.

5. The Big Day

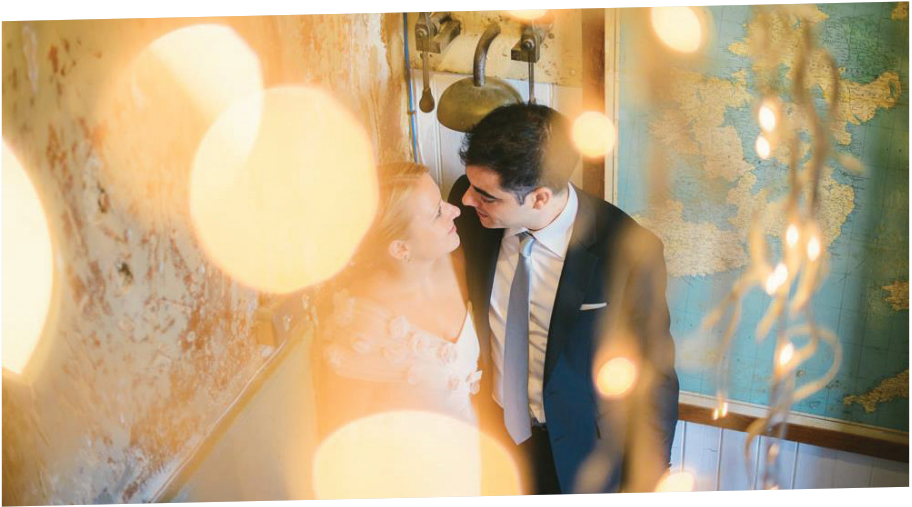

Congratulations. Fun times!

It's showtime.

Your day, your way. Let us do all the work so you can focus on getting married, celebrating with your friends and family, and having a good time.

“We wanted something that wasn’t just the usual wedding setup and DDC was the perfect fit for us. We had been to a couple of events before and knew how good the food and service was so we had no hesitation in choosing to go with DDC and the team. Everything was faultlessly executed.”

“Thank you for an amazing wedding party! We had the best time, you made everything happen and our guests couldn’t stop talking about the great attentive staff, the lovely cocktails, great food, and and and... such a great night!”

“A massive thanks from both of us for our wonderful wedding day. It all went so smoothly and everyone did such a great job. The quality of food was bang on and the drinks were perfect. The venue looked fantastic and there can never be a big enough thank you for making it such a great day”

“DDC rocked our wedding! We would never have had the guts to go for a loft space out in Dalston, but just, Wow. Thanks to Stuart and the DDC team, all of our guests were totally blown away and we had the best day of our lives!”
